Chapter 1 by Phantim

Hillary Clinton is the President. Her ineptitude has not only brought the world to the brink of war, but the world economy is in shambles. The financial crisis only adds the the tension between the armies. Russia and its allies pull out of the American dollar and switch to the Chinese Yuan. China then calls on the United States to pay back its debt. There is no choice now but to surrender or attack. President Hillary decides to surrender, she offers up huge swaths of U.S. land and territories to pay back the Chinese debt. Properties that the government does not own. Civil war rips through America as property owners rise up against the decision. The war even reaches the military over seas.

As the battle breaks out between patriotic soldiers and Clinton loyalists in Syria, a Russian convoy is accidentally targeted. The death of the Russian soldiers sparks the War that quickly ravages the entire middle east. In the wake of the collapse of the many governments, radical Islamists as well as other extremist groups come to possess nuclear weapons and gain control over huge territories, only adding to the confusion and crisis in the region... which soon spreads to Europe.

Far displaced from that on the small Island of Cape Verde the world's secret elite meets. Some call them the Illuminati, others the Bilderberg group. They have held all the power for centuries and they were not about to let it go.

"How could you let this happen in the United States? You should have put down those land owners ages ago. We didn't rig the election so Hillary could win, just to have it blow up in our faces!" One of the men yelled.

"We thought we had weakened them down. They never fought us like this before, and we have been stripping their rights and freedoms daily!" Chairman Gold said.

"Russia has become too bold as well. Putin says he still serves us, but power has gotten to his head. He realizes he doesn't need us. He must be stopped," another of the world leaders says.

Chapter 2 by

Contempt is rising between smaller countries while the secret societies weave details of further control on possible economical benefits they can rip from the upcoming war.

Anasteim Ivanov boldly raises his hand and suggests that while the chair devices its plan to keep Putin and the rest of the bigwigs on their leashes, the smaller countries in Asia need to be seized for their resources. "Take for example the existing rift in South East. China and Philippines are on territorial dispute due to a huge gas reserve recently discovered by either of them. Our resources may be exhausted on the first few years of this war effort and for sure, the middle east aren't too friendly to share their oil."

The band of gentlemen turns toward the young man hastily catching his breathe after pulling out a huge proposal. And just like that, their hefty conversation moved on as if nothing was heard from Anasteim. But he is satisfied. Someone will eventually realize the importance of dominating the east. Afterall, the second World War had shown why US dedicated a huge amount of man and military power just to take control of the brown men's islands.

War is inevitable and the timetable is getting shorter. Hillary is nothing but a puppet. The demise of her presidency is leading to a bigger stage of manslaughter. She lost control of the middle eastern territories and Chairman Gold knows that the "refugees" who arrived in US earlier this year are about to realize their plot against the citizens. He took a quick glance at the young man silently taking notes of the discussion. There must be something in Anasteim's mind that the society may use. Taking a deep breath, he says, "Your plan sounds plausible."
